Aaron is a partner in our private client and tax team.

He advises on international and domestic income and estate tax planning, federal income tax practice and procedure and was based in the Withers Geneva office from 2010 - 2014.

Aaron advises on issues relating to tax structuring for investments or companies coming into the US, tax compliance matters (domestic or international) as well as on international estate and trust related issues.

He has substantial experience with intra-family and multi-family office pooled investment and holding vehicles and providing advice to closely held businesses with US tax issues at either the ownership or operational level. Such advice is geared to controlling ownership structures such as trusts as well as to operational issues arising at the asset or asset management level.
